Magnesium

PRODUCT INFORMATION

Harrell's MAX Magnesium is a liquid formulation designed to correct and prevent Magnesium deficiencies. Magnesium is an important secondary nutrient, very essential for photosynthesis, since it is part of the chlorophyll molecule. Insufficient amounts of Magnesium will appear as a loss of green color at the bottoms of older leaves. Severe deficiencies will also affect younger leaves and can result in the formation of lesions. High levels of calcium and potassium can reduce Magnesium uptake. MAX Magnesium assists in chlorophyll production, providing Magnesium in a form that is readily available for both soil and foliar applications. It is ideal for mixing with acid sensitive products and is generally not affected by soil conditions, other nutrients or technical grade materials.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE

Shake well before each use. Harrell's MAX Magnesium should be applied as needed. A jar compatibility test should be performed on unknown chemical combinations. The addition of a non-ionic surfactant will aid surface coverage which will help leaf absorption.
